by J.W. Sternickle Clock tower's home definite

By JULIE MURPHY jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

Though it took two motions, two votes and tie-breaking votes by the mayor, the proposed clock tower has found a definite home at the northeast corner of Main and Orchard streets.

The initial motion was to approve a resolution that said "if" nothing unfavorable about that location was brought to light at the end of the Route 83 corridor study, "then" the location would be approved. Village attorney Bob Long said he had tried to come up with the magic words that would settle the issue.

Trustee Mary Turner said it was insulting to the Clock Tower Committee. "They have come before this board several times," she said. "This is like patting them on the head and saying 'thank you.' I think it's all wrong."

After the motion was made and approved, Trustee Scott Pierce said, "I asked for the motion to be the same as the last meeting. We approved the minutes of that meeting and that was very clear."

To Mayor Taso Maravelas, who broke the tie accepting the motion that Pierce claimed accomplished nothing, Pierce said, "You implored us last week to be done with this."

Pierce made a second motion changing one section of the resolution and deleting another to bring it in alignment with the previous week's motion. Maravelas broke the tie on this vote as well. He was the only voting member to have a change of heart and swap sides on the issue.

Trustee Bob Caulfield said, "When I hear the word 'insulting' brought up, that's what I think of with regard to our village planner (whose opinion is that the location should not be solidified until after the corridor study), and to the village board for commissioning a study and then not waiting for it."

Roland Schleusener, head of the Clock Tower Committee, said he had hoped the vote would be unanimous in favor of giving the project a definite home.

Those who voted against it, Caulfield along with Trustee Barbara Porch and Larry Hanson, all clarified that they are not against the project but that the timing is wrong in deciding the clock tower's home.

Members of the committee said lack of location was thwarting efforts to raise money to build the tower, projected to cost $200-250,000. The goal in selecting this location is to have a spot that will show off the clock tower and make it accessible to those interested in seeing it.

The 50-foot tower will house a clock that will be electrically wound and will have two bells. The hourly bell would be louder and ring at the top of the clock, and quarter hours would be both lower in tone and ring from a lower position. The clock itself is an original Seth Thomas from 1917, and would account for about $50,000 of the project's total cost.

Overtime approved to reopen 173 on schedule

By JULIE MURPHY jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

Well behind its two-week-perclosure schedule, Canadian National Railway is promising to take measures to ensure that Route 173, closed on Tuesday, Oct. 21, is reopened on or before schedule.

This fourth road closure is probably the most complicated of the series, which accommodates Canadian National in its efforts to construct a second rail line. Weather reportedly has prevented the railway and its contractor from making deadlines. The longest delay is at the first closure at North Avenue.

In a letter to Rep. JoAnn Osmond (R-Antioch), Canadian National said it is taking measures to prevent problems at the busiest of Antioch's thoroughfares. The letter said, "CN has given our contractor permission to work additional 395-0142.

hours and pay overtime as needed to meet the revised schedule."

The crossing is scheduled to reopen to traffic sometime during the evening of Wednesday, Oct. 29, "or earlier as the work is completed."

The closures began at the village's northern crossings and are heading south through the village. After the Route 173 crossing reopens, the work will move south to the Grimm Road crossing. Detour routes are posted.

Mitzi Chriss, CAD operator and inspector with the village, previously said, "We're not allowing them to close more than one crossing at a time. It's too difficult to reroute emergency vehicles."

Chriss advises motorists to watch for signage about the closures and to avoid the areas of construction to the degree possible.

Chain loses Walleye Trail Tournament

By JULIE MURPHY jmurphy@lakelandmedia.com

The fish that got away is the Walleye Trail Tournament. The villages of Antioch and Fox Lake had to the Chain O'Lakes next spring and bring with it $1 million in tourism dollars.

About one month ago at its regular board the meeting, directors of the Village of Antioch voted unanimously to spend up to $3,000 to bring the tournament to the area. The two villages, along with their respective chambers of commerce, were going to join forces and money to cover the costs of bringing the event to the area.

At the Oct. 20 meeting, Trustee Barbara Porch announced that the Walleye Trail Tournament committee had chosen another location. "I talked to (Community Development Director for Fox Lake) Claude LeMere, and the tournament will not come to the Chain O'Lakes in 2004," Porch said.

She said the committee would hoped the tournament would come consider the area again for its 2005 competition.

I talked to Claude LeMere, and the tournament will not come to the Chain O'Lakes in 2004'

Barbara Porch

Previously, LeMere had said, "It should bring $1 million to the two villages. This tournament will nationally broadcast and there will be four television spots that run. This is good for tourism; the residuals are immense."

LeMere had referred to the event as the Nascar of fishing and said it would be a wonderful catch for the two communities.

For next spring, local fisherman won't have to worry about sharing their favorite fishing spots or share of walleye; they'll have the Chain all to themselves.

Signs announce athletic excellence

By JULIE MURPHY. Staff Reporter

All those entering the village of Antioch, whether by way of Route 59, Route 173 or Route 83, will soon be aware that Antioch is synonymous with athletic excellence.

The Illinois Department of Transportation (IDOT) sent a letter to Mayor Taso Maravelas that said signs would be made and placed at the village's entrances acknowledging the 9-and 10-year-old Girl's Softball Team for winning the 2003 state championship as well as the Antioch Community High School Varsity Dance Team for winning the 2003 AAA Kick State Championship.

The signs will remain at the entrances for a period of one year. When it is time for them to come down, IDOT will give the public works department one the signs as a memento.

"This is something we're very proud and happy about," said Maravelas.

Both of these teams have fared well in statewide competition in past years.

Garbage strike gone, but not forgotten

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

While the garbage strike may have been settled, it's not a done and forgotten deal with village officials.

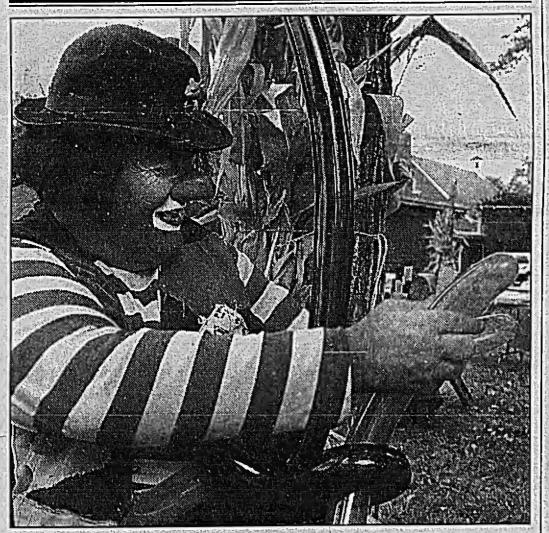

Trustee Dorothy Larson asked where the village stood on getting reimbursements for residents Management. Waste "Citizens should be reimbursed for one week (for disrupted service)," she said. "We paid for service we haven't received."

Village Administrator Alan

Probst said, "I've been pursuing that. I've made repeated calls to Waste Management, and have been playing phone tag. I think it's a matter of getting someone on the phone to talk."

Probst said that while service has been restored, the refuse company has not adequately collected and cleaned up some of the village's commercial sites that had piled up as the strike stretched beyond one week.

"There are some things left to be done," he said. "I'm keeping

Earl Beese, Lakes Region Historical Society vice president. and Ainsley Wondering, museum director, beam over the two awards presented to the society by the Illinois Association of Museums for the 1863 Restoration Project and its accompanying Progress Display. The LRHS received an award for the restoration and an award for the photographic exhibit of its progress.

Historical society garners awards

By JULIE MURPHY Staff Reporter

Two awards have been bestowed upon the Lakes Region Historical Society (LRHS) by the Illinois Association of Museums. Both awards are tied into the work the society has done in restoring Antioch's oldest standing building, now called the Meeting House.

Project manager and current Vice President Earl Beese said the first award, an award of excellence, was for the building restoration itself and the second award, an award of merit, was for a photographic exhibit of the process of rehabilitating the building.

The Meeting House is located on Main Street south of Lake Street and can be seen by anyone driving through the village. The photographic exhibit "Progress Display -1863 Restoration Project" is on display inside the Meeting House.

"This is rather prestigious," he said. "It's quite a feather in the cap of the society to have received these awards."

The application for consideration was a project in and of itself with a binder full of information including a mission statement, institutional budget, project budget, background of the society as well as a narrative of goals, planning, implementation, evaluation. The final touch: all the supporting documentation.

Beese said the Illinois Association of Museums, that includes well over 300 museums, judges projects on professionalism, outstanding work quality and the pertinence of the project to the museum and the area.

"We're in very good company," he said. "There were 12 awards of excellence presented and many of these were to much larger organizations than ours including the University Museum (of Southern Illinois University)."

Beese directed the two-year project to return the church to its former glory. The building was constructed in 1862 and was built to be the permanent home for the Disciples of Christ.

These two awards are the culmination of those efforts.

The historical society made the decision to restore the church not only because of its age, but also because of its importance to the village.

The Village of Antioch was incorporated in 1892, but 50 years. prior there were nine log houses owned by families many of which are still prominent in the area: Stevens, Shepard, Gage, Simons, Warner, Ingalls, Rinear, Person and Simmons.

According to "History of the Disciples in Illinois 1819-1914" by Nathaniel S. Haynes, The name Gageville was initially given to the village that was renamed Antioch years afterward.

Previously, Ainsley Wonderling, museum director, said, "The Disciples of Christ were first referred to as 'Christians' in Antioch, Syria, a city on the Orontes River in southern Turkey. That's why this town is named what it is."

For more information and museum hours, call LRHS at 847-395-7337.

Play it safe this Halloween

afety guidelines are always welcome, particularly when the nature of a holiday or event can lend itself to unsafe circumstances and behavior. With that in mind, Antioch Fire Chief Dennis Volling and the Antioch Fire Department have compiled a few tips to keep in mind when preparing to trick-ortreat.

Help children pick a costume that is safe, and if the costume includes a mask, select one that has proper eye, nose and mouth openings and does not impair peripheral vision. Reflective vests and safety strobes can both be found at hardware stores and make children more visible.

Props such as swords should be made of flexible material that will bend under pressure in the event of a fall. Keep lit jack-o-lanterns away from areas where children are walking past and costumes could possibly catch fire.

Julie Murphy

Remind children never to talk to strangers, never go anywhere with strangers and never accept rides from strangers.

Additionally, remind older children to look both ways when crossing the street, and to use sidewalks where available.

Finally, parents should accompany children whenever possible.

Don't forget to put on a good pair of eatln' pants this weekend.

St. Ignatius will host its 50th annual turkey dinner this weekend. The dinner will take place on Oct. 25 from 4-8 p.m. in the gymnasium of St. Peter School to accommodate anticipated crowds.

The cost of the dinner is $10 for adults and $5 for children up to age 12. Carry-out is available for those who would rather eat in the comfort of their own homes.

Dinner includes turkey, mashed potatoes and gravy, stuffing and dessert. Organizers say that dessert, which will feature a variety of homebaked goodies provided by the congregation, will be the crowning jewel of the event. Raffle tickets are $1 each or six for $5.

All tickets will be available at the door the day of the event, or can be purchased in advance from church members.

St. Peter School is located behind St. Peter Church, north of the intersection of Routes 59 and 173 on Lake Street.

LAKE VILLA

Possession of cannabis

Kyle E. Bulava, 18, of 9 E. Grand Ave., Lake Villa, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Oct. 12, at 2:35 a.m., at his home, following a one-car accident at Burnett and Park, in which a vehicle, registered to Bulava, collided with a utility pole. Police observed a vehicle matching the description of the one in the collision. The registered owner was wanted on a Lake County warrant. Police found the vehicle and the driver in a garage at his home address. In plain view, police found 20-30 cans of beer and several water bongs (glass pipes used to smoke cannabis).

In the garage, police found several pipes containing a resin, a small scale and several bags containing 374 grams of a substance that later field-tested positive as cannabis. The bags were inside a blue book bag. Bulava denied the cannabis was his, and told police the blue bag was not his, either, although the police report notes the suspect was never told that the cannabis was found in the book bag. Bulava allegedly had an odor of alcohol on his breath, and admitted to police he had imbibed 3-4 beers.

He was charged with possession of over 30 grams of cannabis, intention to deliver over 30 grams of cannabis, possession of drug paraphernalia and illegal possession of alcohol by a minor. He was taken to bond court, where bond was set at $50,000 pending appearance at the county court in Waukegan.

Andrew M. Wendt, 19, of 85 N. Lake Ave., Grayslake, was arrested by Lake Villa Police on Oct. 12, at 8:08p.m., while a passenger in a car going northbound on Cedar Lake Road, near Northwood. Police first observed the car traveling at 62 mph in a 45-mph zone headed westbound on Monaville Road. The driver, who had no driver's license, was given a verbal warning for both the license violation and the speeding violation.

One of the passengers in the rear seat, who appeared young to police, had a cigarette. He turned out to be 16 years old. He was issued a ticket for illegal possession of tobacco by a minor.

After the driver gave consent for a search of his vehicle, police found a film canister containing particles of marijuana, as well as two glass "pot" pipes. Wendt, the second rear seat passenger, said the pipes were his, and said the resin was a combination of cannabis and tobacco. He was charged with possession of cannabis (under 30 grams) and was released on $75 bond, pending appearance in Grayslake Branch III court.

Criminal damage to car

A 48-year-old female resident of 135 Cedar called Lake Villa Police on Oct. 11 at 9:20 p.m. to complain about vandalism to her car. The vehicle had been covered with toilet paper and had liquid hand soap poured on the seat and in the gas tank as it sat parked in the lot behind the apartment building. A witness reported seeing three teenage males toilet-papering cars at the Metra station on that night, between 9-11 p.m. No arrests were made.

Suspicious circumstances

A custodian at Palombi Middle School, 133 McKinley Ave., called Lake Villa Police on Oct. 14 twice to report possible trespassers on the property. He told police that over the Columbus Day weekend, unknown people had been on the roof, and had turned off the heating and air-conditioning system and tampered with an electrical line. He called again later the same day to report finding gang graffiti in the eighth-grade boys' restroom.

LINDENHURST

Carol Messer, of 35775 N. Ash, Ingleside, was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Oct. 18, at 11:38 p.m., near 2203 Rolling Ridge, following an accident. According to police, Messer's car crashed into a parked car on the street, deploying her airbag. Marcus A. Messer, 38, was lying in the grass, bleeding from his face. Carol Messer, who was driving, said she swerved to avoid another car, but could not describe the vehicle. She allegedly hit a mailbox, valued at about $50.

Police detected an odor of alcohol on her breath. She failed five of five field sobriety tests, and a preliminary breath test yielded a result of .110 BAC. The driver was taken to the hospital, where blood and urine tests were taken. She admitted drinking three beers between 7:30-10:30 p.m., and said she estimated her speed to be 25-

She was charged with failure to reduce speed to avoid an accident, improper lane usage, driving an uninsured motor vehicle and DUI. Additional charges may be made, pending the results of the blood and urine tests. She was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Nov. 18, at 9 a.m.

Jan Gal, 38, of 19524 83 St., Bristol, Wis., was arrested by Lindenhurst Police on Oct. 18, at 12:35 a.m., while driving northbound on route 45, near Millburn Road. A police officer observed the driver heading into oncoming traffic, then passing through a red light. Police detected an odor of alcohol on the driver's breath. He failed four of four field sobriety tests, and a breath test yielded a result of .199 BAC. He was charged with improper lane usage, disobeying a traffic control device, DUI, DUI over .08 BAC and driving an uninsured motor vehicle. He was released on a $3,000 I-bond, pending an appearance in Waukegan courtroom C-402, on Nov. 11, at 9 a.m.

Sheriff's office offers tips for safe Halloween

Lake County Sheriff Gary Del Re announced the Sheriff's Office Highway Patrol Division will be intensifying their patrol efforts over the upcoming Halloween weekend, including Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 1 and 2.

"Typically, the Sheriff's Office experiences an increase in vandalism and suspicious persons calls during the Halloween weekend," Del Re said.

With Halloween falling on a Friday this year, an increase in such calls is anticipated on both Friday and Saturday evening. Accordingly, the increased patrols will be concentrated in areas where the most calls have occurred in the past. There will be patrols of these specific areas plus random patrols as needed.

"The increased police presence in potential high incident areas and subdivisions will hopefully act as a deterrent to those people entertaining thoughts of wrongdoing on a weekend which should be safe and fun for everyone," Del Re said.

The Sheriff's Office offers parents and children a few tips to enhance safety during trickor-treating:

 Make sure children look both ways before crossing a street.

•Be cautious of strangers. Advise children never to go inside a stranger's residence while trick-or-treating, or at any time.

·Suggest that children travel in groups and visit homes together. Adult supervision is highly recommended. Make certain children know their home telephone numbers and addresses. •Put reflective tape on costumes for better visibility after dark.

 Arrange a trick-or-treat route for your children and stick to it. Instruct children to remain in well-lit areas •Buy or make flame-resistant costumes.

·Make certain that costumes allow proper ventilation and do not obstruct your child's field of

Instead of masks, use face paint.

•Instruct children to stay on sidewalks and driveways, not in streets and yards.

 Provide your child with a flashlight for extra illumination.

 Make certain your children understand that they should refrain from eating candy and other treats until a parent or other responsible adult can inspect them for signs of tampering.

In addition to the safety tips and stepped up patrol operation, Sheriff Del Re is inviting parents to have Halloween candy collected by their children checked for safety before being consumed. This invitation has been extended to anyone who may have concerns about edible treats received by children while trick or treating.

"In the past, the Sheriff's Office has received occasional reports of materials having been inserted or placed into candy or other items received by children as Halloween treats," Del Re said. "To help allay these concerns and to reduce the risk of a child ingesting something potentially harmful, we have decided to give parents and guardians this opportunity."

The candy check will be offered on Saturday and Sunday, Nov. 1 and 2, from 8:30 a.m.-to 12:30 p.m. This is to accommodate residents of towns with varying trick-or-treat hours.

To take advantage of this free service available to all residents of Lake County, go to the Babcox Justice Center, located at 20 S. County Street, Waukegan.

Deputies will be on hand to screen candy and other treats via the Sheriff's Office magnetometer at the building entrance.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Lake management

As president of the Sand Lake Property Owners Association (SLPOA) I wish to thank Lakeland Newspapers for the interest your series of articles has generated in our lake management issues and I'd like to respond to, and clarify, a few points.

Ours is a voluntary organization whose sole purpose is the responsible care, maintenance, and safety of Sand Lake for the benefit of all who use it. These are public waters, with a township beach, and launch ramp accessible to boaters and fishing via purchase of a key sold by Lake Villa Township. Those key fees, shared with Sand and Miltmore lakes, plus our voluntary membership dues, are the primary source of funds for our efforts.

The object of the "Weed Wars" is Eurasian Water Milfoil (EWM), an invasive, lake-choking species from the other side of our planet. The majority of our residents and members want our funds to go toward its control, allowing the return of natural vegetation and the recreational opportunities we planned to enjoy when we moved here, whether that move was four months or four decades ago.

Regarding the treatment of our lake, no one in our association wants to "burn" Sand Lake with harmful, "draconian" chemical treatments. In fact, the fluridone treatment to which this comment referred was an idea brought to us by the Lake County Lakes Management Dept., which is the most trusted source of lake management methods. The idea is to do this treatment late in the year, when EWM is still active, but the natural "good weeds" are dormant, and thus should not be cleared by such an application.

In regard to fund-raising, we have done fund raising for the EWM Weevil project to buy thousands of bugs that were to eat the EWM. The money needed for the project came roughly from 60 percent in donations/dues, 25 percent from key fees, and 15 percent from other fund raising. When past members of SLPOA discuss how they did lots of fund raising, I hope they would bring their calendars to volunteer their time to help, and/or their checkbooks to donate to lake care projects. We will listen to ideas from members and nonmembers at our meetings, and we invite everyone's input. However, as a volunteer organization, it should be understood that without willingness to participate in ideas, they are not likely to be implemented.

The weevil project placed the majority of the weevils near the Forest Preserve, which has a natural shoreline. Even this did not lead to repopulating in future years, and this year that shore was socked in with EWM. We have since learned that, although some lakes have natural weevil populations, transplanting has very rarely been successful, and we must sadly write off that option as a noble and expensive failed experiment, and move on.

The problem with which we have to deal is our members see our recent plans of minimal herbicide treatment to control small areas of EWM, and long term planting of good weeds, as not achieving their goals. Thus, some do not rejoin, and key sales dwindle, eroding the funding available for effective projects.

The final article cited one bottom owner as saying she "sent in her $20 every year for taxes". Their total annual tax bill for the bottom is only a few hundred dollars, none of which goes to care of the lake. Our members pay $200 every year ($150 dues plus $50 launch fee), all of which does go to such

On the positive side, our most recent negotiations did provide some progress toward improving lake access this year, but much needs to be done. We hope to continue, and expand, cooperative efforts between SLPOA, Lake County Lakes Management, Lake Villa Township, and those who own the majority of the bottom of the lake, in hopes that we can together best manage this unique resource.

> Steve Berna President SLPOA Lake Villa

s he stood at the podium, two thoughts popped into Lee Mieure's mind. The first had to do with him getting smacked in the jaw while officiating a Mundelein-Zion-Benton softball game back in 1987.

Former Mundelein High great Susan Musselwhite was in the on-deck circle taking practice swings preparing for her at-bat. Unfortunately for Mieure, he was the only one umpiring the game (from behind the

As he sprinted down the first base line to make a call on a ground ball, Musselwhite's bat inadvertently caught Mieure in the jaw.

"That didn't tickle too much," said Mieure, who was on hand as part of the seven new inductees being christened into the Lake County Sports Hall of Fame.

The event, now in its 15th year of being held in honor of the late legendary Lake County sportscaster Keith Ryan, took place at Midlane Resort in Wadsworth last week.

As for Mieure, "as I look back, it was funny because I was in the hospital for a while, with my jaw wired shut and one of the Mundelein softball coaches (Jim DeRivera) came to visit. What do you think he brought me? Jawbreakers!"

Well, it took a little more than a broken Jaw to keep Mieure from doing an outstanding job as a member of the Northern Officials Association for over 30 years.

That span, which included calling the shots for the Illinois High School Association, included a stretch of working 46 consecutive days.

Which bleeds into the second thought Mieure, now 74, retired and residing in Antioch, had as he addressed the some-230 people attending the event.

The journey started out a just a supplemental income," said Mieure, whose main gig was that of an educator at institutions such as downstate Sandoval and St. Joseph's.

But it turned into a passion. And now I have a bunch of wonderful memories, as well as friendships, to look back on."

During his career, Mieure officiated predominantly the 'big three'-football, basketball

He was honored to work three state football championships, including the first-ever IHSA State finals in 1974.

Mieure also had the privilege of working two IHSA Girls State Basketball finals, including the title game in the tournaments second year of existence.

"That was a tremendous honor," Mieure said. "Getting to work the title game with the two best teams in the state going against each other."

Overall, his officiating covered the entire spectrum, from little league all the way up to semi-professional.

And now he had his name permanently engraved in the Lake County Sports Hall of Fame as the first official to receive such a distinction.

From my family to my friends to the IHSA-thank you!" he said.

I think that's our line, Lee!

In a span of just over a minute, Libertyville all-purpose player Santino Panico returned an interception for a school record 85 yards for a score while also rumbling 40 yards on offense for another.

Oh, throw in a 7-yard tackle for a loss as well as it was that kind of night for Antioch as the Cats raced to a 49-31 victory.

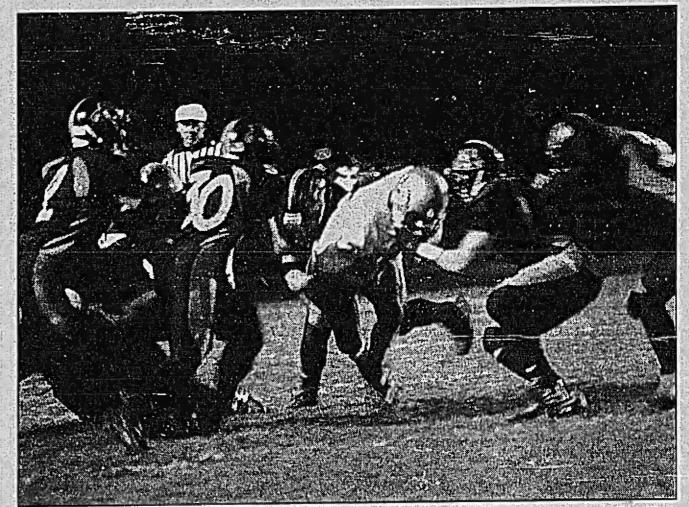

"The pushed us around a little bit tonight," said Sequoit head coach Del Pechauer. "We're banged up but we didn't quit. Give Libertyville a ton of credit: that's an outstanding football team."

Antioch, after starting the season 4-1, slipped to 4-4 overall and finds itself in a position it did three years ago, having to win its last game to earn an at-large bid to the state playoffs.

We obviously have to win this Saturday (against Mundelein to get in," Pechauer said. "It'll be tough. Mundelein's been struggling a little bit but they always come ready to play. They have a good quarterback (Matt Drecoll) and wide receiver (Jake Gaebler) and can score on you at anytime. We need to put pressure on them defensively."

Mundelein has had the Sequoits' number the last two meetings, including a 44-7 a year

Three starters—running backs Nick Nathan (knee) and Tom Rompella (hamstring), and defensive lineman Mike Campese (hand)—were out for the Libertyville game. But all should be ready to go Oct. 25 at 1

Running back Nate Hughes dashed for 75 yards and a touchdown before sustaining a leg injury in the third quarter. Hughes is expected to be back in action for the Mundelein game.

the likes of juniors Mike Miller (34 yards, two touchdowns) and Joe Romani (70 yards, touchdown).

Quarterback Randy Frolich turned in a solid game in the losing effort, completing 7of-12 passes for 115 yards.

Rams playoff bound for 1st time in 15 years

By ROB BACKUS rbackus@lakelandmedia.com

Grayslake head coach Vito Andriola knew that the matchup against McHenry wasn't the end of the season, win or lose, and he made sure his players knew it as well.

"I told the players that McHenry wasn't the end-all and the kids bought into it," Andriola sald.

After losing to the Warriors 16-0, Grayslake was able to bounce back with a 21-7 win over Crystal Lake Central.

Not only did the win give the Rams some much-needed confidence, but it gave the team its first playoff berth in 13 years.

"It feels pretty good," said Andriola of the playoff berth. "It's great to get it done." A win against Dundee-Crown on Friday will give Grayslake an all-important home playoff game in the first round. Given that Grayslake is in uncharted territory, Andriola should be ecstatic.

However, he was anything but happy with his team's play in the first half against the

in the first four minutes of the game, but several mistakes, namely penalties, cost the team any chance of scoring as the game stayed scoreless through the first half.

Andriola was especially mad after a series in which Grayslake had moved the ball down to the DC 12-yard line. However, four penalties later it was 4th-and-52.

"I told the team at the half that we needed to focus," Andriola said.

The scoreless first half extended Grayslake's scoring drought to 6 quarters, bringing back memories of the Rams' anemic offensive output last season.

However, Grayslake put an end to the painful memories after Mike Mulvaney scampered 25 yards for the score just four minutes into the 2nd half.

A Corey Williams sack and strip in the end zone on the ensuing drive, which John Irish recovered, gave the Rams a 14-0 lead.

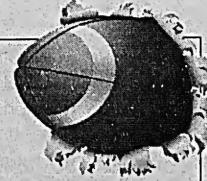

Then something strange happened. The usually stalwart Grayslake defense, which has allowed just 7 points per game, The Rams could have scored 14 points shut down temporarily as the Tigers marched the ball down the field to pull within at touchdown, 14-7.

> "I don't know what went wrong on that drive," Andriola said. "We just weren't mentally ready, and we're nowhere near good enough just to show up and play. We're a blue-collar team that works hard to win."

> The Rams got back to their blue-collar roots after that, keeping the ball on the ground and chewing up the clock before scoring an insurance TD with just over a minute left in the game on an Adam Dones 5-yard run.

In the game, Grayslake racked up 348 yards on the ground, led by Dones (19 carries, 125 yards) and Brian Centalla (18 carries, 131 yards).

Grayslake (6-2, 5-2 FVC) will travel to Dundee-Crown on Oct. 24 in search of its 7th win of the season. Kickoff is set for 7:30

Antioch building for the future

By ROB BACKUS rbackus@lakelandmedia.com

Although his team has already enjoyed some success this season, Antioch coach Bob Schenk knows even better times lie ahead.

That's because the Sequoits will return five key players from this year's team that has already posted 17 wins.

"The future is definitely looking bright for us," Schenk said.

Even though he is already looking forward to next season, Schenk has enjoyed his time with this year's team.

"We're a close-knit group," Schenk said. "I had a lot of fun this year."

In a match against North Chicago on Tuesday, Schenk had an opportunity to play next year's probable starting lineup and the players didn't disappoint, winning 25-14, 25-

Kate Hofeldt (7 kills), Colleen Curtis (7 kills), Kristy Mihovilovich (5 kills), Ashley Wisler (12 assists, 3 aces) and Tracy Heitman (6 digs) led Antioch (17-12) to the win.

"The match gave us a chance to play people in different positions, which will help us in the Crosstown Classic," Schenk said.

Antioch will compete in the Crosstown Classic, hosted by Vernon Hills and Libertyville, on Oct. 24. The team will play in a pool with Vernon Hills, Round Lake and North Chicago.

A tournament in downstate Pecatonica gave the Sequoits a chance to come together

"We had a two-hour bus ride so it was a good chance for us to bond," Schenk said.

Antioch finished 3-2 in the tourney, beating Dickson 25-22, 25-9, Dakota 25-13, 25-22 and Pecatonica 25-15, 25-15 and losing to Bloomington and a 26-1 Winnebago squad 25-20, 25-9.

"I was impressed with the caliber of play in the tournament," Schenk said.

Hofeldt (34 kills, 6 aces), Mihovilovich (21 kills), Jennie Dewar (16 blocks), Wisler (32 assists) and Maggie Lonergan (23 assists) helped lead the Sequoits to a 3rd place finish.

ANTIOCH VIKINGS ROUNDUP

With co-captain Joey Anderko sidelined with an injury, the Antioch Gold lightweights played inspired football in their 32-13 victory over a tough Grayslake Green team under the lights at Grayslake last Saturday.

Tailback Richard Gibson started the offensive barrage with a tough 70-yard run for a touchdown, breaking tackle after tackle along the way and getting blocks from Tom Dahlem and Craig Tanner. Antuwan Hall added the extra point.

The Gibson offensive gem seemed to enliven the Vikings as the defense, led by linebackers Tim McLynn, Hall and Gibson, shut down the Colts.

The Vikings second score was set up when Hall, with key blocks from Alex Shaw, Dan Beake and Jared Baker, raced through the Colts defense for 55 yards. Hall then took it over from 5 yards out to run the score to 13-0.

After stopping the Colts again, the Vikings marched down the field, cashing in on a 35yard pass play from Hall to Chris Utes to make the score 19-0.

The Colts, first half score came on a 7-yard sweep and after running in the extra point, the halftime score was 19-7.

After the Colts punted on their first second half possession, the Vikings again hit pay dirt when McLynn scooted for a 60-yard gain.

On the next play, McLynn carried it into the endzone for the touchdown and Utes threw to Baker for the extra point running the score to 26-7.

The Colts kept it close, running back the ensuing kickoff 65 yards for the touchdown.

After a couple of failed possessions by both teams, the Vikings struck again. With crushing blocks from Gibson and Center "Big Nick" Marsalek, Jay Hagert became the fifth

Viking to score a touchdown, racing around left end for 40 yards to end the scoring for the

The defense stood strong in the second half, holding the Colts to only one first down.

Trailing by nineteen points, the Colts were forced to the air, but excellent coverage by corners Kyle Olson and Andre Skula and a great pass rush by James Androus, Kevin Cahill and Adam Garcia held them scoreless.

The proud Viking defense held the Colts to only one first down in the second half. The Vikings ended their regular season at 7-1, the best overall record in their

They begin the march into the playoffs, this Saturday with a 3 p.m. game vs. Cary Blue in Antioch.

The Antioch Viking Black middleweight team coached by Joe Valentine finished their regular season strong by disposing of the Lake Zurich Flames 38-13 at home.

downs, one on a QB keeper and the second on a 35-yard pass from Zach Percivial. David Tomis also kicked 4 extra points.

A new chapter in the baseball life of Derek Shelton will begin this fall.

His new challenge is that of hitting instructor for the minor league system of the Cleveland Indians. Shelton, 33, completed a successful career as a minor league manager for the New York Yankees system.

'I'll be working with all levels, A to AAA. I'll try to tell them to be disciplined with your swing," Shelton said.

Shelton, a 1988 graduate of Warren Township High School, is one of the newest members of the Lake County Sports Hall of Fame. He received the honor along with several other new inductees at the Keith Ryan Fund Sports Scholarship Banquet.

Shelton, who lives in Florida now, will be working with Indians farm director John Farrell. He said that it should not be too hard to get players to listen to him and follow his advice.

'It is not that hard, once they realize that you are there for them," Shelton said.

Shelton and his dad, Ron, become the first father-son combination inducted into the county hall of fame. Derek predicted that his younger brother, Craig, who broke his Warren football records, would be a third family member inducted soon.

Shelton served in the Yankees' minor league system for three years, two in the Gulf Coast League and one in the Florida State League. He managed the Gulf Coast Yankees in 2000 and 2001, winning division title in 2000 and the league championship in 2001. He earned Baseball America Rookie League manager of the year honors in 2001.

Shelton was a main force in Warren's winning its first sectional basketball crown, in 1988. He said many people have "watched the tape of that game thousands of times, Broadcaster Keith Ryan was very important to me," Shelton said.

Shelton, whose dad Ron played in the Orioles farm system, was a three-year varsity starter and three-time All North Suburban Conference selection. He was twice selected all-conference and all county in basketball > and baseball. He was his team's MVP in all three sports his junior year, the first Blue Devil to be so honored. He also won the DW Thompson Outstanding Senior Award. He took his baseball skills to his home area of Southern Illinois University. where he lettered in baseball for four years, as the Salukis; starting catcher for the last three. In 1990, SIU won the Missouri Conference and Valley advanced to the Stanford regional.

The Yankees drafted him, but coupled with an injury, learned that pro ball was not in his future as a player. "I learned my limitations," he said.

Derek and his wife, Rachel, reside in Wesley Chapel, Fla., and have one son, Jackson, age 3.

Also honored as the Class of 2003 Lake County Sports Hall of Fame members: official and coach Dennis Freund, a graduate of Wauconda High School; head baseball coach Bob Mackey of Stevenson, a graduate of Barrington; Northern Officials Association member Lee Mieure; Stephanie Romic, Grant High School graduate; Larry TenPas, a graduate of Waukegan High School and Jeff Zgonina, a graduate of Carmel High School, now playing for the Miami Dolphins. Connie Payton, widow of Bears great Walter Payton, was the guest speaker.

A look at the six-member class, honored at ond round in 1987. She served as co-captain

Country Club.

TenPas: "I'm here for Keith Ryan. What an amazing person that we are honoring and continuing the tradition," TenPas said. He knows the importance his success on the wrestling mat has meant to him. "Wrestling gave me an outlet," he said. TenPas is a 1952 graduate of Waukegan Township High School. He was a two-time state wrestling champion at 145 pounds, scoring 47 wins in backto-back undefeated seasons. In 1952, he qualified for the final Olympic trials in Ames, Iowa. He choose the University of Illinois, where he was chosen the team's outstanding wrestler three years in a row. He was a three-time all-American, taking a third, second, and in 1956, winning the NCAA National Championship.

Romic: Romic graduated from Grant High in 1982, lettering in basketball, volleyball and softball. For hoops, she was a three-time All-Northwest Suburban Conference and all-Lake County selection and led Lake County her senior year in scoring with a 25.2 points per game average. She also had a 12.2 rebounds per game average. She led her team to the con> ference title in 1979, and won many all-tournament awards and all-state recognition. She went on to play at the University of Illinois, after a 1,523 point high school career. In volleyball, she led the Bulldogs to the district title, receiving two all-conference and MVP awards.

Romic told the audience how her family would travel all over to go to her games.

As an Illini, Romic was a four-year starter and four-time letter winner. Illinois participated in the first round of the NCAA tournament in 1986 and the seca crowd of more than 240 guests at Midlane her junior and senior years. She earned a bachelor's of science degree in physical education at the University of Illinois and a master's degree in physical education-administration from Central Michigan University. Romic is general manager of Comfort Suites and Country Inn and Suites in Gurnee and active in the Lake County Chamber of Commerce.

> Zgonina: A graduate of Carmel High, he lettered in basketball, track and hockey, but won accolades early on for his football prowess. He earned all-East Suburban Catholic Conference, all-county and allstate. He played at Purdue University from 19989-92, where he was a four-year starter and set a school record for tackles for loss with 75. As a sophomore, he had a career high 123 tackles. He was named all Big Ten, and won Big Ten Defensive player of the year honors his senior her, recording 101 tackles.

Zgonina was chosen in the seventh round of the NFL draft, of the Pittsburgh Steelers, in 1993. After a brief stint in Carolina, he signed with the Atlanta Falcons in 1996, with 19 tackles that year and a fumble recovery. Next was St. Louis, where he and 22 tackles, 2 sacks, 2 pass deflections and four special teams tackles, winning the Rams' 12th man award in 1997. In 1999, he was back with the Rams and his career was in the spotlight. In 2001, he had 66 tackles, four fumble recoveries and had 8 tackles in the NFC Championship game win over Philadelphia and four tackles in Super Bowl XXXVI vs. New England.

Last year's stats, as a right defensive tackle, were 81 tackles, four sacks and 29 yards in losses, forced three fumbles and added a fumble recovery.

Now he calls Miami home, where he signed a four-year contract in March. He and his wife, Cammie, have a daughter, Bailey Olivia, and reside in Plantation, Fla.

igh school homecoming boosters across the county are always happy to accept more volunteers. Mundelein's were no exception. Diane and Steve Petty were in charge when the Mustangs hosted Grant on Sept. 12 A crowd of about 4,000 people attend. Pepsi gave MHS a second concession stand to serve on the visitor's side.

"We always have the second concession stand for homecoming. We have Whoppagetti's pizza, Best Kosher hot dogs, and Italian and Turkey subs. We have at least 25-30 volunteers here," Diane Petty said.

Contributions of the MHS Boosters of late include improvements to the weight room and funds for the cheerleaders' use. Boosters also arranged for a new, brightly colored "Home of the Mustangs" sign.

Many schools raise money with a golf outing. MHS raised $20,000 for the school's coffers on the links this summer, according to Steve Petty. Petty is proud of his sons who play on the varsity and freshman football teams.

"It's all volunteer staff. A lot of us are also part of Mundelein Little League," Petty said.

Examples of such volunteerism at Lake County high schools abound.

WHS Boosters Club

At Wauconda High School, boosters have improved a baseball field off campus and plans are in the works for an expanded concession stand and team room.

"We hope to get the foundation in and get going on construction. It is needed because of the size of the present one, plus, being in the North Suburban (Conference), the opposing teams bring bigger crowds," said Jim LePage, Wauconda High School principal.

WHS Boosters Club President Jim Grimm leads that effort.

Grant High's Buildogs Boosters

In the past few years, Grant High Boosters have staffed a concession stand for baseball games, purchased a new scoreboard and redesigned the gymnasium floor.

Booster Mary Koval was working the apparel booth as kickoff for a football game with Stevenson neared.

"The sweatshirts are going fast. We are selling a lot of hats and Tshirts for homecoming," Koval said. Koval has been active for four years in the boosters. The store does not, however, provide the best of vantage points for her son's games.

"They are all hard workers, who have done a great job for the kids," said Grant High Athletic Director Frank Cittadino.

The current format of the Bulldogs Boosters began some eight years ago with a $7,000 contribution. "We wanted to do more significant things than just have a pizza party. The Boosters have given us the new scoreboard, a new gym floor and scholarships and wish lists for coaches. With the NSC, (the North Suburban Conference), the bar has been raised," Cittadino said.

A core group of about 20 families leads the Grant High boosters. Cittadino and John Benedetti, Grant High superintendent, wanted to make sure the group was school-wide when it was restarted eight years agó.

Financial contributions at the Fox Lake school: 1996-97, $7,900; 1998-99, scholarships were increased to four, $500 scholarships and $11,000; 1999-2000, $14,000; 2000-01, $25,000; 2001-02, $20,250 and 2002-03, $25,000. Wish-list requests have been fulfilled to the tune of more than $100,000.

members were busy at the counter, ready to serve fans of seven girls volleyball teams at the Gurnee school.

Sandy Orr is a busy Warren booster. At one point, her two children were involved in a total of six varsity sports.

WTHS boosters helped keep Warren High coaches staffed at the present levels, despite the failure of a referendum, said athletic director Mark Pos.

"We have about 200 members. We try and make our contributions even across all the sports," said Booster Officer Mike Semmerling.

A new swimming scoreboard was one of the group's recent donations. Semmerling has been involved in the group for eight years. One year, he joked, he was elected president when he was at a Chicago Bulls' basketball

'We try and make it so that parents do not have to miss (seeing) their kids play sports," Orr said.

Round Lake High's Panther Pushers

Round Lake High's financial troubles have been well documented over the years, but the Panther Pushers have always been willing to come to the rescue.

"The parents have been able to pitch in and help buy new uniforms and some extras. They really appreciate the kids and come up with good ideas for fund-raising," said Jim Prorok, athletic director.

Antioch High Sequoit Pride

At Antioch High School, the community group is known as the Sequoit Pride. The boosters give to both curricular and co-curricular causes, said Steve Schoenfelder, assistant principal and athletic director.

"We have a solid group of workers. They have donated the new sound system in the north gym and a new scorers' table. Ray Chevrolet also donates money for each touchdown that the football team scores.

Grayslake Rams Boosters

'The donations have been huge. They supported all the programs, especially when we were looking at cuts because of the referendum (which passed). They buy things like travel gear for all the teams and helped to buy the trainers' golf cart," said Grayslake Athletic Director Troy Harper. The Grayslake Police Department's Fraternal Order of Police donated $500 for new football helmets.

Mike Sledz leads the Rams parents' group.

Libertyville High School

At Libertyville High School, there is not one booster group but several parent associations—one for each sport.

"The last few years, they have donated a lot, such as for lights for the football field, the new concession stand, a huge 'mister' that sprays water and the parents of soccer players donated a new sound system at the soccer complex," said LHS Athletic Director Tim

Parents of cross-country runners staffed the concession stands at the huge North Suburban Conference and regional meets hosted by LHS at Adler Park.

The Yarc family provides beef products at the LHS night football games. "When we went to lights three years ago, we wanted to offer something more substantial than nachos and candy," he said.

The parents groups all help pay for team meals, sometimes at their homes, other times at LHS.

Albers said LHS would be installing a new track and irrigation system as soon as football season is over. Track meets will be at sister school, Vernon Hills, next spring.

Take this workout and shove it

"I'M A FREAK OF NATUUUURE!"

he Jazzercise instructor couldn't have picked a better theme song for me. I'd managed to turn my nifty exercise tube into a lethal slingshot for my bifocals.

In the proper hands, these elastic bands are supposed to snap sagging muscles back into shape. Give them to me and you've got twenty pounds of excess body fat flinging around on a bungee cord.

It doesn't stop there. Bring on the circus music when they pass around the big exercise balls.

Those perky punishers at Jazzercise make it seem so easy, "Keep your back on the floor and raise your legs straight up. Then simply position the ball between your knees LIKE SO. (I think I last saw this contortion on "Ripley's Believe It Or Not!") Now ladies, use your legs to lift and lower the ball with the beat!" [Cue Music: something like "Flight of the Bumblebee"]

The result? Someone might as well be throwing me fresh mackerel as I bounce my ball around the room like a trained seal. Lucky for them I don't show up at their step classes. Why risk tripping over one plastic step when I can barely manage my own stairs without a chairlift?

At least I can take some comfort in knowing I'm not the only one who's taken a flier on exercise equipment only to fall flat on their flabby derriere.

The recent trash collector's strike certainly seems to have brought out the best in people. For a lot of folks around me that's meant finally getting rid of their home gyms so garbage haulers can get back in top form. Based on the mint condition of this equipment, I'd say the first time the owners broke a sweat was when they hauled their gear down to the end of the driveway

However, a friend of mine did have good reason to give up her exercise bike. Let's just say the gears got stuck, but not on her bike. Her husband had to prop her up in the back seat of the car, frozen hip joint and all, for a quick trip to the emergency room.

But I'm certainly not going to throw dumbbells at others until I get this barbell off my own shoulders.

I did get rid of our "ski simulator" at my last garage sale after the kids tried to see if our cat had the courage of a St. Bernard when faced with danger. But our exercise bike still sits unused in a corner until some young genius turns it into a hamster wheel.

And, although I hate to admit it, I've got my eye on another piece of equipment that might just give me the flexibility to pick a donut up off the floor.

The kid's Tae Kwon Do instructor has a gadget guaranteed to work the kinks out with a simple turn of the crank. The user simply immobilizes his lower body in a steel "V", then grimaces until his legs are spread out like a cheerleader in traction.

I like this contraption because it'll allow me to get in some serious cross training.

I can see it now. I'll need to strap on my husband's heart rate monitor in preparation for this workout. Then I'll pop in a Richard Simmons video. Finally, I'll crank my knees open wide enough to allow for my snack tray. Hey, I might even "go for the burn"—though at my age I shouldn't be eating spicy foods.

The David Adler Cultural Center welcomes

Chris Proctor

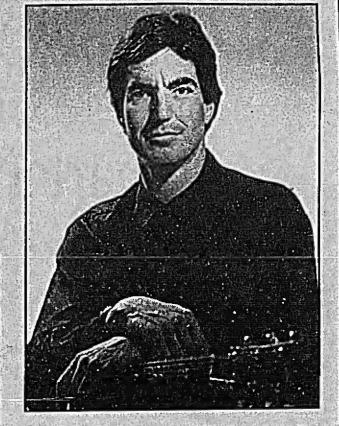

The David Adler Cultural Center in Libertyville continues the Adler Concert Series with diverse performances from musicians representing cultures from around the world as well as traditional American music. Supported by a grant from the Illinois Arts Council, Sunday afternoons during the fall season at the Adler Center are a celebration of musical cultures. Appearing on Sunday, October 26 at 2 p.m. will be Chris Proctor.

Critics call his guitar playing breathtaking, haunting and rich. They trace the roots of his style to folk, jazz, pop and classical music and, when all else fails, they try and categorize his playing as "baroque folk."

These luminous and diverse descriptives typify the first-time listener's response to the innovative works of the instrumental, steel-string finger style guitarist, Chris Proctor. Chris is known for his remarkable body of original works for six and 12-string guitar, his trademark > counterpoint and inner voices, his technical wizardry and his pioneering use of the E-bow.

> > On his new CD, "Under the Influence," Chris has raised the bar on arranging as well, focusing on the music of his formative listening years, he finds ways that not only pay homage to each song's origins, but also into territory beyond that of any mere tribute album. We surf waves of 60's and 70's folk, the timeless and elegant Baroque constructions of I.S. Bach, driving Irish jigs and haunting slow airs, bluegrass and Appalachian string band tunes, and treatments of guitar pieces from steel string titans Leo Kottke and John Fahey.

His CDs, books, videos, magazine articles and endorsements all testify to Chris's standing as one of the elite finger style composers, arrangers and performers of the

Children's Film Festival October 23-November 2

By George O. Singleton

If you often complain about how few films there are oriented toward families, you'll be pleased to know that for this weekend and next, at the 20th Annual Chicago International Children's Film Festival (CICFF), you have more to choose from than you'll probably have time to attend. As expected, tickets are in strong demand and at the cost of only $6.00 for children and adults, they are selling fast. Please buy your tickets through www.ticketweb.com or by telephone at 1-866-468-3401.

All films are shown on Saturday and Sunday, October 25-26 and November 1-2. There are two components to the festival, first, of course, are the films and the other the workshops, on topics such as clay animation, acting and camera work. The clay animation workshop runs on October 25 and 26 from noon to 4pm. This eight hour workshop is targeted at children ages 11-14. They will create their own clay animation figures, design a story and movie set as the team gets things moving with a short film that will be shown on the second weekend of the festival. The cost is $75.00.

Cinematographer Alan Thatcher ("Stir of Echoes") will teach a 90minute workshop on filmmaking skills on Saturday, November 1st, aimed at youngsters ages 8-14, at a cost of $15.00. The Acting Out workshop focuses on auditioning for roles, getting into character and working with directors and crews. Sunday, October 26 from 1-2:30, also for ages 8-14, fee $15.00.

For youngsters who are 2-5 years old, the film "The Zoo Crew" introduces them to various members of the animal kingdom from around the world. "A Walk on the Wild Side" is based on the popular series "Where The Wild Things Are," which turns 40 this year. This fun event begins with a screening of films based on Maurice Sendak's books, followed by a party with cake and other trim-that we create.

If your children just want to be entertained or they hope to one day entertain others with a career in film, don't miss this once a year opportunity to see the best in children's films. For more information on the schedule and location of the screenings and workings go to www.cicff.org.

Taking the bitter with the sweet

"Pieces of April" marks the directing debut for Peter Hedges. Last year he received an Academy Award nomination for his screenplay "About a Boy" (Hugh Grant). Hedges' innovative filmmaking continues to shed light on the often bitter and comedic turns our lives can take.

Shot with a hand held digital camera, the movie has an intimacy and immediacy that draws you into this circle of family and friends, as they prepare for that most American (and often dreaded) holiday tradition, Thanksgiving dinner.

April (Katie Holmes, "Phone Booth" and TV's "Dawson's Creek") is determined to gather together her suburban family to share a home cooked meal in the small Lower East Side apartment where she lives with her boyfriend Bobby (Derek Luke, "Antwone Fisher"). She and her mother, Joy (Patricia Clarkson), have never gotten along, and April is anxious to come to an understanding with her as her mother faces breast cancer.

April doesn't have a clue about fixing a dinner. She does know that she needs to roast the bird, and when she's ready to pop it in the oven, April discovers that hers doesn't work. So begins her floor-tofloor canvas of the building, heavy roasting pan in hand, in search of a hot oven. A mix of neighbors dish out a lot of advice; most notable, a black couple, Yvette and Eugene (Lillias White and Isiah Whitlock, Jr.), who sound off about canned cranberry sauce and prepared

Meanwhile, the family station wagon heads toward NYC. Everyone is reluctant to see April, except her father, lim (Oliver Platt), who tries to hold it all together. They make pit stops along the way for Mom to toke on a marijuana joint, supplied by April's teenage brother Timmy (John Gallagher, Jr.), to keep down the nausea she experiences from chemotherapy. Patricia Clarkson gives a brilliant portrayal here as an angry, articulate and ferociously funny woman in a battle for time.

madcap sense of humor

or that master of comedy, Mel Brooks, there are no sacred cows, and when he mines the laughs he always goes for the jugular. Would you expect anything different?

"The Producers," a Brooks film-turnedmusical, epitomizes his comic, if politically incorrect, genius. It's wacky and it's fun.

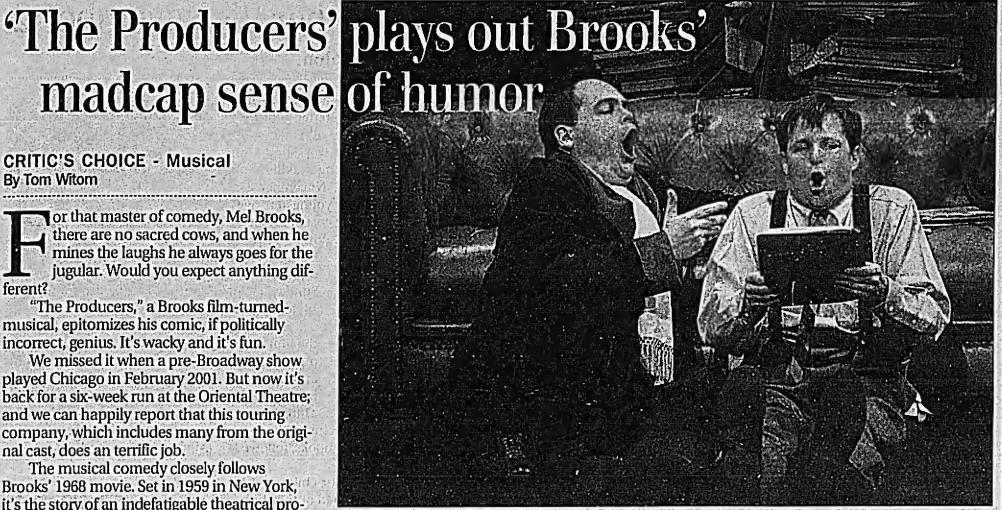

We missed it when a pre-Broadway show played Chicago in February 2001. But now it's back for a six-week run at the Oriental Theatre; and we can happily report that this touring company, which includes many from the original cast, does an terrific job.

The musical comedy closely follows Brooks' 1968 movie. Set in 1959 in New York, it's the story of an indefatigable theatrical producer whose latest effort - as so many of its predecessors - has just flopped on Broadway.

Max Bialystock, the wheeler-dealer producer (Brad Oscar, very solid in this high-energy role), suddenly sees opportunity in defeat. He teams up with Leo Bloom, his pliant accountant (played with maximum hysteria by Andy Taylor, still clutching a remnant of his baby blanket for comfort) on a shady but supposedly "sure-fire" get-rich scheme. All they have to do is find a play to produce that's so bad that its opening and closing night will be one and the same. Then they can take the money raised from investors and split to Rio.

Their vehicle turned out to be "Springtime for Hitler," a tasteless, cheesy play celebrating the "hotsy-totsy Nazi's" artistic side and, as Max put it, "certain to offend all races, creeds and religions." Peter Samuel's portrayal of the warped playwright Franz Liebkind is priceless.

For a receptionist/actress, Max and Leo move on to hire Ulla (Ida Leigh Curtis, a nice combination of good looks, comic flare and vocal firepower), a Swedish cutie who does more than dress up the office. They also tap the "worst" director they can find, one who is inclined to put a gay spin on every production he handles (good work by Stuart Marland and his right-hand man, Rich Affannato, singing "Keep It Gay").

The ever-changing sets and sumptuous costumes reflect high production values and a substantial budget. Susan Stroman gets credit for the thoroughly creative direction and choreography. One of the funniest scenes takes place in Little Old Lady Land, where Leo toys with the affections and fantasies of would-be investors. Here, the ensemble's showgirls don gray wigs, black pocketbooks and stainlesssteel walkers for their big tap dance number.

In the end, of course, the public loves their goofy satire. Leo winds up in the slammer, but his partner in crime comes to the rescue.

Railroad gives ultimatum

Mundelein—Officials are hoping for the best in a contest between the village and Canadian National Railway Company. If it does not get its way, the railway company threatens to sound its homs as its trains roll through town. Mundelein can not comply without violating Illinois state statutes.

CN gave Mundelein an ulti-matum by saying unless the village closes rail crossings in excess of 10 minutes or stops ticketing trains for blocking traffic, its engineers will follow through on its threat on Oct. 25.

Contract talks continue

Round Lake A contract for Round Lake school teachers could be reached soon. To date, the two sides have agreed on internal substitution, tuition reimbursement, sick leave sell back and extra curricular activities. But no agreement has been reached on class size, subcontracting, retirement insurance, health insurance, severance pay, attendance bonus, longevity, and the duration of the contract.

Village could set policy on shredding

Gurnee-This could be the first local village to set a policy saying administrators must consult with trustees before disposing of documents, on the heels of a trustee discovering the destruction of over 6,000 pounds of legal and financial documents without board approval. Village Administrator Jim Hayner, who ordered the shredding, said all disposed documents were approved by the state. The board voted to draft a policy regarding document disposal.

High-tech traffic controls set to arrive by '05

You won't have to sit in traffic you know

you shouldn't have to sit through'

Marty Buehler

Lake County Division of Transportation director

By CAREL SCHMIDLKOFER carels@lakelandmedia.com

County board officials approved use of federal highway funds for the first phase of the implementation of the Intelligent Transportation

Traffic System, Management Center Feasibility Study and Implementation Plan.

The system will feature real-time traffic monitoring systems that will enable drivers to maneuver through traffic and help officials address backups and accidents in an expeditious manner.

"The benefit is time," said Marty Buehler, director of the Lake County Division of Transportation.

It will make the highway system more efficient," Buehler told offi-

"You won't have to sit in traffic you know you shouldn't have to sit through.'

The initial implementation of the first phase of the Lake County Passage includes the construction of a traffic management center in Libertyville that will house the Advanced Transportation Management System.

This system will interact with signals and other field devices such as changeable signs and radio broadcasts.

A 4,430-square-foot addition is planned to add to the current transportation building in Libertyville to oversee the operations.

Fiber optics that currently exist in the county will be expanded to connect signals, field devices and the management center.

The estimated seven-year plan will eventually included computer-aided dispatch centers to police stations to find traffic accidents and effectively direct traffic.

Phase 1A will cost $5.3 million including the traffic management center. Sixty percent of that amount is federally funded.

Partnering with the county is the Department Transportation. IDOT already currently maintains and operates most of the county's traffic signals.

It is hoped that the program will be underway by 2005.

"It's an exciting time to be in the operations side of the transportation industry," Buehler said.

New legislation benefits area schools

By CAREL SCHMIDLKOFER

carels@lakelandmedia.com

County officials have been working on ways to increase parity between municipalities and county government when it comes to school funding.

They have been seeking an amendment to the county code to allow the county to purchase land and infrastructure coming out of developments for the benefit of schools.

A school site improvement amendment was passed into law this summer that eliminates dollar amounts developers are required to pay in impact fees for schools,

Officials can negotiate with developers who want to build in their communities not only money for land for schools, but infrastructure as well.

Previously, developers were required to pay for any future land necessary for school usage. If a school didn't need that land, they couldn't collect any fees from developers. If land purchased by a developer for a school wasn't used within 10 years, that money had to be returned to the developer.

The new law enables communities to affect an impact fee not only for land but for infrastructure as well.

"To build a classroom, build a parking lot, a gymnasium, anything that will be used for that educational facility," said Bonnie Thomson Carter (R-Ingleside).

"This really opens up the door and what's really significant is that there is no dollar limit," she said.

Thomson encouraged board members to contact schools in their districts about passing resolutions that are up-to-date on what the infrastructure cost is for students.

Ex-county board chair still trying to appeal sentence

By STEVE PETERSON speterson@lakelandmedia.com

A former Lake County Board chairman convicted of improperly performing his duties as Ela Township supervisor is appealing his sentence.

"We have appealed to the State Appellate Court. We expect it to be heard in January or February," said Robert Will Jr., an attorney for Robert Lake County Circuit Court Judge Mary Schostok sentenced Grever after a jury found him guilty in 2002. Grever, of Lake Zurich, is charged with 12 counts of official misconduct for concealing $195,000 owed to the township for his deceased mother-inlaw's care.

Grever was sentenced to probation and ordered to pay Ela Township $190,000 in September 2002.

George Strickland, head of the Lake County State's Attorney's office felony review division, and Robert Will, Grever's defense attorney, concluded their cases with closing arguments this week. Grever had taken the stand in his own defense, saying he told township officials of a debt owed to the township by his deceased mother-inlaw, Mae Chojka, who owed the township for her stay at Winchester reinforces group's focus

By JEFF ZACHARY jzachary@lakelandmedia.com

Criminals and evildoers would be well advised to not hang around the Waukegan Yacht Club on the shore of Lake Michigan-especially during the annual Lake County Crime Stoppers Award Luncheon.

Attending the event were crime fighting notables: Sheriff Gary Del Re; Lake County Chiefs of Police

Association President Bruce Johnson; Special Agent from the U.S., Department of Justice Bureau Alcohol. Tobacco and Firearms Thomas Ahern: Lake County State's Attorney Michael Waller; Lake County Chief Judge Margaret

Stoppers annual luncheon. Mullen; Circuit Judge James Booras and many other people dedicated to upholding the law in Lake County.

And of course, Lake County Crime Stoppers Executive Director Andy Anderson was on hand to thank all the people who help solve crimes in Lake County.

Lake County Undersheriff Gary Stryker presented an award to Anderson on behalf of the Lake County MEG group.

"Andy has done a great job. He's been involved with our MEG unit and obviously with the gun-buyback program," Stryker said. "And we all know that (program) has been very successful. We have taken about 850-900 guns off of the street."

After the keynote speech by Ahein where he touted the many accomplishments of his organization, and the many Crime Stoppers awards handed out. Anderson addressed the audience.

"I would like to say that I believe since 9/11, all of us have through a lot of stress and trying times. However, I also believe that if we continue to work together that we can make all the communities in Lake County a safer place to live, work and visit."

Crime Stoppers is a community program geared towards public involvement in the fight against crime.

The program offers cash rewards of up to $1,000 and anonymity to citizens who furnish information leading to the arrest and indictment of felony crime offenders.

Crime Stoppers meeting Bikers ride for One Safe Place

Efforts help out new family center

By BRENDA BALIN-BEITSCHER bbeitscher@lakelandmedia.com

As charity motorcycle runs go, the Oct. 18 run for One Safe Place was a light one.

Only 23 riders came out for the trip from Lake Villa to Lake Geneva. but their proportional contribution was considerable.

They brought in $600, after expenses, which included a lunch at Skinny's, a restaurant in Lake Geneva.

The restaurant's inclusion in the entry fees of $25 per person (either biker or passenger) may have put a dent in the proceeds.

"It looks like a biker's bar, but it has a four-star chef," said Joanne Osmond, one of the ride's organizers.

One Safe Place, now under construction in Zion, will be a transitional living center for families in crisis, particularly following domestic violence.

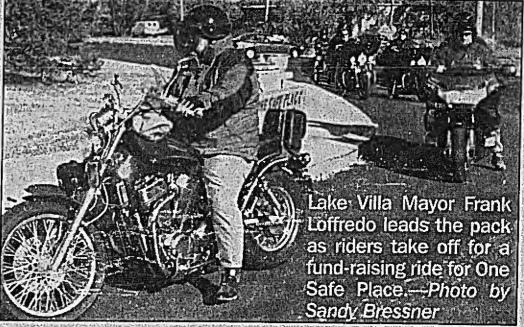

·Although A Safe Place now provides crisis assistance for women and children in Lake, McHenry and northem Cook counties, its shelter facilities are short-term, intended to get a family through the initial period when a protected environment might be needed.

One Safe Place will provide safe, affordable housing, counseling and supportive services for women and children who have fled abusive relationships.

Families will be allowed to rent the apartments for up to two years, at rents scaled to income.

The 20-unit apartment building will accommodate up to 39 women and children at a time, with one family per housing unit.

This will allow families to reestablish a normal living pattern, while reconstructing resources through education, job training and counseling.

Osmond described the fund-raising and consciousness-raising efforts as based on a "three-touch" approach.

"First, we are making presentations to schools and civic groups," she said. She has already spoken to groups such as Lions, rotary and the Exchange Club, as well as to students and teachers in public schools.

"Students are volunteering to take fliers out to businesses in Lindenhurst and Lake Villa," she said.

At Palombi Middle School, students are taking the matter to heart, and are involved planning a number of activities to raise funds. (See sidebar.)

"The second 'touch' is to include fliers in paychecks of teachers and employees of small local businesses," Osmond said. "In the third phase, we are sending personal letters to business owners, asking for contributions."

Businesses and individuals can contribute directly to the project at www.asafeplaceforhelp.org/donations-tlp.html or by mail to A safe Place, Transitional Living, P.O. Box 1067, Waukegan, IL 60079.

For more information, call Davina Martin at 847-249-5147.

School kids help with common cents

In Lake Villa, three separate tudent organizations are coming together to help raise funds for One Safe Place, the transitional living center now under construction in Zion.

Members of Palombi Middle School's student council are joining forces with members of the National Junior Honor Society, and SMAD ("Students Making a Difference," a school-based volunteer service organization), with goal of raising $10,000 by the end of the school year.

Their first effort, a penny drive, raised $1,000 in a week.

SMAD jumped into the project with a lollipop sale, and the honor society is planning to either hold a Krispy Kreme sale or a breakfast. SMAD faculty advisor, social studies teacher Will Hibler, suggested combining the two ideas.

The next big fund-raiser will de a student council dance on Halloween, followed by a "root beer chug" and raffle on Nov. 7.-Brenda Balin-Beitscher

Tax assessments are on the way

Lake County will be mailing out tax assessment notices this month. They are printed on blue paper to stand out from regular mail.

Chief County Assessment Officer, Martin Paulson and local township assessors will be at the College of Lake County Oct. 28, at 7 p.m., to discuss tax questions. Contact the Chief County Assessment Office at 847-377-2050 for further information.

"Ruth Grever was not the only one to benefit from this; Robert Grever did as well," Strickland said. "Ruth Grever knew that she would be getting away with it. She had her own little piggy bank. The defendant would never have revealed it, if not for the divorce."

Prosecutors contended Grever had a statutory obligation to report all debts owed to the township. Will said that the appeal contains many of the same objections that were outlined during the trial. The defense stated that Grever did not act beyond the statutory limitations of his authority.

He submitted the bills of every other resident, without stating their names," Will contended. Grever is charged with concealing the debt owed by his ex-mother-in-law to the township board until 1999.

The Grevers benefited with such items as computers, household items, and clothing for Ruth Grever, the prosecution contends.

Whistle rage invites diplomatic review edate suburbia can deal with many modern day faults and imperfections (crowded classrooms and traffic gridlock come to mind), but train whistles isn't one of them. There's nothing like a horn-happy engineer or late night whistle blowing to raise the hackles.

Because of an abundance of rail systems serving this locality, the subject of train whistles regularly shoulders its way on to the public agenda. Officials of Mundelein have refused to knuckle under, choosing to turn a curse into a cause. The result has been installation of an experimental automated warning system designed to minimize annoying train whistles. The project has attracted national attention. The system employs directional horns designed to minimize or eliminate the annoyance to neighbors.

An official 16 month study of the innovative system being conducted by the Illinois Commerce Commission comes to an end Saturday, Oct. 25. The date is significant because that's the day officials of Canadian National Railway say they will start sounding whistles again. Canadian National is the company that owns the tracks running diagonally through Lake County from south to north and the line the provides trackage for the North Central rail commuter system running north to Antioch that also serves Lake Villa, Grayslake, Libertyville and Buffalo Grove.

Canadian National also is the line that operates increasingly long freights that block crossings for agonizingly long periods. In an effort to keep the freights rolling, Mundelein police have been ticketing stalled trains. Ticket activity has totalled more than $70,000 in the past year.

The railway has threatened to sound the horns with gusto and glee if the citations (perfectly legal under state law), aren't stopped. Trustee Ray Semple describes the response as "extortion." Railroad officials regard the resumption of whistle tooting as "business as usual." Safety reasons, you know.

As the deadline approached, no one was predicting an outcome. An international incident could result given that the railroad is a foreign company. Maybe the U.S. State Dept. ought to be summoned.

A few years ago, we took no little ridicule for framing train whistle blowing as part of the natural order of things. Dogs bark, cats meow and train whistles blow. Phooey, responded Mundelein officials. And they had representatives of Libertyville and Vernon Hills to back them up.

We don't pretend to have an answer for the Mundelein-Canadian National stand off. While the subject of train whistles is on the front burner again, could somebody do something about the freight engineer who runs the Metra tracks about midnight?

Help on the way for downtowns epresentatives of 20 Lake County communities attended a half-day forum hosted by Lake County Partners on retail and downtown development. If those in attendance were disappointed that the forum didn't produce quick fixes or permanent solutions, they shouldn't be. What the forum stressed was that retail and downtown development is a long-term process that demands strong leadership.

From our viewpoint, what the speakers presented sounded doable. Niche marketing is vital. Dare to be a little different. One size (or look) doesn't fit all. Stay flexible. Expand the mixed use concept, meaning blend in residential housing with retailing. Ever see apartments built over a strip mall? Mixed-use is made to order for downtown.

In general, business people, officials, chamber of commerce officers and bankers came away energized. Their enthusiasm should pay off for the communities attending: Antioch, Beach Park, Buffalo Grove, Grayslake, Gurnee, Hawthorn Woods, Highland Park, Lake Forest, Lake Bluff, Lake Villa, Lake Zurich, Libertyville, Lincolnshire, Lindenhurst, Long Grove, Mundelein, North Chicago, Round Lake Beach, Wauconda and Waukegan.

Developers know the ingredients for success in strip mall construction. The same doesn't hold true for a successful downtown. Innovation and creativity are key. That's why a couple of bywords may do well for downtown advocates to keep in mind: patience and persistence.

VIEWPOINT

Cubs loveable, no longer losers

t the risk of being guilty of over cooking an already overcooked goose, let's all agree that "wait til next year" has meaning for the first time in a long time.

Admit it, Cub fans. As recently as August if someone would have told you to bet the farm that the North Siders would be one game away from the World Series, your response would have been along the line of "Dude, lighten up. You smok'en somethin?"

Let's all agree right here and now. The 2003 season was a great year for the Chicago Cubs. Boy, did they ever give us something to talk about, to cheer for, to hope for. Tantalizingly, the promised land came oh so close. If there's one constant (don't say losing or choaking), it's the innate Cub ability to tease. Call it being Cubly. Like the anxious guy at the bar figuring he's really coming on strong to the curvy chick sitting next to him, only to hear the fateful words as she gets up to leave, "See you around." Sort of the equivalent of "wait til next

Let's also agree that the Cubs no longer are loveable losers.
Loveable yes. But losers no. No way. Not when a team can knock off pesky Houston and dynastic Atlanta in the playoffs. For heavens sake. The '03 Cubs were winners. Has 2002 been forgotten? That's losing (last place) friend.

If anything, the fans bleeding Cubbie blue will want more. Your faithful correspondent (and fellow Cub lover) predicts even as the "what ifs" still are swirling, you're going to get more. Start the chant with a bow to Ernie Banks. "Lct's get more in 2004."

I'm getting anxious already.

BILL SCHROEDER
Publisher

How's it going to happen? Dusty Baker will be back for sure. Demonstrated leadership and a track record. Gotta' keep Prior and Wood. Like to see Grutzy and Kenny Lofton back. Aramis is a keeper at third. And those two valuable guys behind the plate with the blue collar work ethic. Maybe Sammy and Moises. But the rest? As the bar babe said, "See you around."

A closing word about the victorious Marlins. Darned good team. Outstanding management and personnel direction. Jack McKeon kept his team loose. Great pitching. Great defense. Great situational hitting. Grinds, though, that the team doesn't have more fan support. When you get down to it, the Marlins and Cubs were pretty evenly matched up and down the lineup. Only difference. One game.

Meaningful words

Duke Schippers sends along the seven more important words for men who want to cultivate a happy marriage. I love you. I'm sorry. Yes, dear. Duke has wisdom and experience. And great-grandchildren to prove that the Hospital report

Artist-illustrator Doug Ploss is letting his graphic skills explain his surgical experience in two trips to Condell Medical Center. On an outline of the cardio-vacular system, Doug provided a time line and steps taken to clean out arteries. All very technical stuff, but as Doug told this column, "Not enjoyable, but very acceptable."

Promoting business

Steps are being taken at Saint Mary of the Lake/Mundelein Seminary to increase meeting/conference business. USML Conference Center recruited Kimberly S. Kreml, a planning professional from Harrison Conference Center, Lake Bluff, to spark management. The seminary features more than 10,400 square feet of meeting space. Facilities are available for corporate seminars, meetings or retreats for groups up to 225.

The 1,000 acre forested campus is a bonus. The seminary was created more than 70 years ago as a training center for Catholic priests.

One man's family

Days of decision for the small fry. Picking a Halloween costume. Tommy is all set with his Spider Man outfit. Erika will be a Smurpf. Are they still around? Ali has selected a cat suit. "Grandpa, a gray cat." Ditto for Nikki, who will parade as a pink cheetah, "with furry ears." Opting for the scary side, John is pretty sure he'll impersonate the Grim Reaper. Halloween seems to be more fun every year, even for grown-ups.

COMMENTARY

Tip your hat to our farmers

By Philip Rovang

h no, it's that time of the year that farmers love, and fear. It's harvest time in northeast Illinois and the farmers are moving their big harvesters and combines into their farm fields. It's the time of the year when they finally can harvest the results of all their hard work (and good weather luck).

But it is also the time when local residents suddenly are forced to slow down for the slow moving farm equipment. Despite their desire to be off the public roads, they have to move their farm equipment between fields. And that usually results in numerous yells and obscene gestures by the impatient public caught behind their farm equipment.

Slow your fast paced world down and realize the benefits of our farming community. First, they will add more than $5 million to the economy when they sell their harvested corn, soybeans, and hay. Those agriculture dollars impact hundreds of people whose job depends on the farming community, either directly or indirectly.

Those fields of corn, soybeans, and hay are a form of open space that is so important for the residents who live here. Without the fields, there would be homes and businesses popping up all over. Instead of the beauty of a farm field, you would be looking at another

PARTY LINES

PARTY LINES, THE LAKELAND NEWSPAPERS' COLUMN OF POLITICAL OPINION, IS PREPARED FROM STAFF REPORTS.

New director fit for Demo challenge

ev Hmurovic is looked upon as a "good fit" in efforts to provide a new face, apply new energy and establish a more business-like approach to Democratic politics.

Hmurovic is rounding out her first month as executive director of Lake County Democratic Women, organized last summer to strengthen party ties with female voters.

A human resource specialist, Hmurovic replaces Judy Armstrong who resigned unexpectedly for health reasons.

County Recorder Mary Ellen
Vanderventer predicted a bright future for Hmurovic citing her commitment and energy. "Bev's so dedicated that she was active in Democrats Abroad-Ireland when living in Europe during a job assignment," Vanderventer pointed out. She was employed at Hewitt and Associates at the time.

Hmurovic is a resident of Libertyville and remains active in business as a private consultant.

The new women's leader is aware that pronouncing her last name can be a challenge. As she explains, "Simply put the first letter on the end and sound the H. Sounds like "Murovich," she added brightly.

Youth movement

Party leaders are pleased with efforts to revitalize young Republicans (under 40). An early October event at Mickey Finn's, Libertyville, drew 50 persons. The Lake County Republican Federation has an associate board for younger GOP members that Berliant: Wants to retain her position on tax board.

Bean: Back for more in Democratic primary in '04.

will support the Federation Board of Governors and other party functions.

Durbin dissed

Making one of his rare appearances in Lake County, U.S. Sen. Dick Durbin offered his services to end the Woodland School strike if both sides were interested. Apparently striking teachers and board of education were too busy negotiating to take notice of the Illinois Democrat's offer.

Candidate ousted

Even before making a formal announcement, Jim Farrell's plans for running for the county board were revealed by a mailing from the Wauconda Township Republican Club. A letter contained tickets for a fundraiser Saturday, Nov. 1, at the Wauconda Legion Hall. The letter indicates Farrell's strategy to establish a support base in Wauconda, which is part of the two-township District 5. Farrell resides in the Grant Township portion which is home for incumbent County Board Rep. Bonnie Thomson Carter (R-Ingleside). To get off to a fast start for the March primary, Farrell has established a website. Farrell has selected green, maroon and white as his official campaign colors.

Still serving

Millicent "Millie" Berliant, former college of Lake County trustee, served notice that she is not bowing out of public service entirely. She wants to retain her position as a member of the Board of Review which handles real estate tax protests. The review position is compensated; the CLC post is not.

Old-fashioned candidate

Melissa Bean, a modern-as-the-minute business consultant, is relying on homespun philosophy when it comes to her personal political future. "If at first you don't succeed, try, try again." So Bean, unsuccessful in unseating Congressman Phil Crane (R-8th) a year ago, is gearing up for another try in 2004. Bean feels surviving a primary race will only improve her chances in November.

Niemi fighting

Betty Niemi, retired assessor of Grant Township, is battling complications from injuries suffered in a fall in her home. She followed elected office with current duty as Lake County Republican Women's chair.

Opposition forming

Opposition to Sheriff Gary Del Re is spreading. One group has established a website to exchange information about alleged wrong doing in the sheriff's office. There is a movement forming to get Antioch Police Chief Chuck Fagan to challenge Del Re in 2006—as a Republican. Fagan ran as a Democrat in 2002 and was defeated.

Wants more

Is he or isn't he? He is. County Board Rep. Don Bauer (R-Round Lake Park) has sent out signals that he'll seek a second term in the March primary. When first elected in 2002, Bauer indicated one term was enough. But he enjoys campaigning and the by-play of politics.

Policy program

Members of the Libertyville Township
Republican Club have secured Congressman Mark Kirk for guest speaker at their annual fall forum Monday, Nov. 10, at White Deer Run Golf Club, Vernon Hills. Built around public issues, the program beginning at 5:30 p.m. also includes cocktail networking time and a dinner buffet. Reservations can be secured by contacting John Beeson at 847680-4781.

Dinner rescheduled

Members of the Lake County Republican Federation re-booked their second annual fall dinner for Wednesday, Nov. 12, at Glen Flora Country Club, Waukegan.

Not representative

here are many great auxiliary organizations that support our Lake County, State and National Republican Party. Some venerable ones like the 10th Congressional District
Women's Republican Club, the Lake Forest and Lake Bluff Women's Republican Club and certainly the many strong Township Republican Clubs that conduct fundraising events and closely support our County Party are some of the fine examples.

Likewise, for over 40 years, the Lake County Republican Federation has been instrumental in developing resources (people and money) for our party. We have a strong sense of partnership with all of these great Republican organizations. They all have one over-riding characteristic that has made them successful over the years and allowed the official Republican Party organization for Lake County, the Republican Central Committee, to consider them as good partners. This core quality is that they support all Republicans and they do not attack their fellow Republicans.

I bring this up because of an organization called the Republican Assembly of Lake County (RALC) which is comprised mostly of good and well-intentioned individuals. My concern is that the RALC, or at least one or more of their officers, is using this organization with the name "Republican" in it to attack in writing several Republican office holders. They also have written to a number of precinct committeemen in recent weeks and have provided false information about Republican office holders.

Because they use "Republican" in their name, it is important that I tell you that the RALC does not represent the Republican Party of Lake County. They certainly do not speak for the party and in my mind are not legitimate "parthers" in our party efforts. They have also attacked one of our good affiliated Republican organizations, the Republican Federation. In their recent letter they commented, "The high priests of RINOism (RINO) being a reference to Republicans in name only) recently gathered at the annual Lake County Republican Federation breakfast to elect their officers," and went on to make derogatory remarks about the event. As a federation member I find this very offensive and certainly not an example of what a true Republican Club or organization would say.

We all certainly believe in our Constitutional right for freedom of speech. However, I expect Republicans, and any grouping of Republicans, to be responsible and not use false or very misleading information for apparent political advantage. I reviewed this matter with the executive committee of the Lake County Republican Central Committee and received unanimous support for writing. Our purpose is to make it absolutely clear that the Republican Assembly of Lake County does not represent the Republican party and certainly does not speak for our executive committee or the overall central committee. If you do receive information from the RALC about Republican officeholders, my suggestion is ignore it and concentrate on the important task ahead of us which is working together for a great Republican victory next year.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Serving by giving

If Ms. Balmes had donated the materials to the village, I would be first in line to publicly commend her on her generosity. Unfortunately, they were purchased by her relative which already is prohibited in the Gurnee Village Code. I have provided the exact reference below which was approved in 1996 before I was on the board.

Sec. 2-287. Disclosure of interest
Any public official or employee who has, or whose family members have, an interest in a transaction which is the subject of an official act or action shall disclose on the record of the board or commission which performs such official act or to the village administrator, in the case of employees, the nature and extent of such interest and shall not participate in any official act or action regarding that transaction.

Is it OK to violate the municipal code if the business advertises in your newspaper? If not, why is your editorial trivializing a clear violation of existing municipal code without disclosing that Balmes has advertised in your publications? Is your editorial page a revenue generator?

The opportunities I have given up amount to hundreds of times these amounts. Trustee Damijonaltis and Mayor Rudny also have given up business because of their elected positions, that is why it is called public service. Ms Balmes has always legislated in the interest of her friends, not the public as she should.

I was the top vote-getter in the two most contested races in Gurnee history. In 2001 almost every local politician from Sue Simpson to Senator Geo-Karis came out publicly against me. I won by an unheard of 35 percent more vote than the third place winner Ms. Balmes (she did have a nice ad in your paper). The reason for this is the voters are tired of politicians working for their friends. They recognize that reforming government takes a bold person willing to challenge the system.

I have been on the board for almost seven years. During this time almost every letter to any newspaper criticizing me has been written by someone who personally or is related to someone who has financial gain on the line from my policy decisions. Just coincidence? As they say, follow the money. I truly hope your editorial represents your philosophy and not your pocketbook.

A good argument could be made that Trustee Balmes violated the existing ethics ordinance due to the fact that she has a direct financial impact in the outcome of the vote. But I am sure that would be petty.

Dairy products—good for you and they keep you trim ow, how can that be? How many times have we been told that we need to cut down on the milk and cheese if we want to lose weight? Well, here we are again-faced with having to revise our way of thinking about not only what is healthy to eat, but what foods help to keep off those extra pounds.

Just ask Creighton University professor, physician and biomedical scientist, Robert P. Heaney. Just a few weeks ago, he stood before the U.S. House of Representatives Committee on Education and the Workforce to urge our government's continued support for milk in school lunch programs. He describes milk which "packs an amazing variety of nutrients-calcium, vitamin D, phosphorus, protein, potassium, magnesium, as well as riboflavin, and a host of other vitamins -as nature's most perfect food." According to Dr. Heaney, the objections one sometimes hears against milk are "scientifically groundless," and that there are "no substitutes for dairy foods if we are to meet the nutritional needs of our school age children."

I called Dr. Heaney last week to ask him about calcium, one of the essential nutrients found in dairy products and calcium's role in controlling obesity. We've known for a long time about the importance of calcium in the development of a strong skeleton. We've also come to recognize its necessity in reducing the risk or severity of hypertension and cardiovascular disease, osteoporosis, even colorectal cancer and diabetes. More recently, there is a growing body of evidence that calcium intake can help reduce the growing problem in this country of obesity and aid efforts to lose weight.

Sounds good to me. I've always had a love affair with milk and cheese. So would eating more of it help me lose more weight? I do know the older I get, the harder it is to get rid of that last stubborn 10 pounds. So the first thing I had to ask him concerned the relationship of weight gain in women over 40 and calcium deficiency. If we took in more calcium would this not only help to combat osteoporosis, but would it help prevent us from getting fat?

Funny I should ask. Heaney actually studied weight change in two groups of women over a 20-year period. On the average, he found a 1/4 to 1/2 pound a year weight gain for women between the ages of 40-60. What he discovered is that there is an inverse relationship between weight gain and calcium intake. That means for women who consumed more calcium, the less of a weight gain. The lesser the calcium intake, the more they were likely to pack on the pounds.

How and why is this? Heaney explained that low calcium levels in the body send a kind of message to the fat cells that tells them to store fat. This is also the case according to nutrition researcher, Michael Zemel who chairs the nutrition department at the University of Tennessee. He has found that milk turns down the tendency of fat cells to store calories and increases the amount used as body heat. Zemel says a hard cheese like cheddar and even high fat yogurt will do the same thing.

Purdue University researchers, Connie Weaver and Dorothy Teegarden's findings were similar. While they studied women between the ages of 18 and 31 in order to research what effect exercise on bone health, what they discovered was that women who ate a diet rich in mild, cheese and yogurt, lost do a sill sire of the same that the weight or maintained their weight while others whose diet was void or ate less dairy products gained weight. They found that women who consumed at least 1,000 milligrams per day reap the most benefits. Heaney recommends 1,000 mg. a day for women up to age 50, and 1,200 mg. daily thereafter.

Calcium to help avert obesity is also true for men. Zemel found that by adding two: cups of yogurt to the daily eating regimen for obese men with hypertension, not only did their blood pressure go down, but so did their weight. Over a year, the average weight loss was 11 pounds.

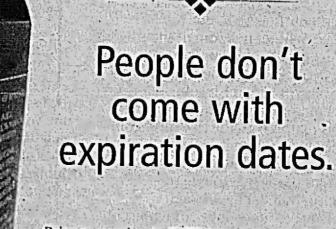

Now, what about calcium supplements? Do they work as well? Zemel and his researchers concluded that dietary calcium in the form of dairy products had a greater effect on reducing fat storage than a calcium supplement. Purdue University's research found that women in their study who obtained their calcium from dairy sources showed more of the weight control benefits than did those who used nondairy sources such as green leafy vegetables, nuts or calcium supplements. Why is this—that the consumption of dairy products works better than taking calcium nutraceuticals? According to Dr. Heaney, there is something in milk and milk products, and we don't know what it is, that in addition to calcium stimulates weight loss.

So does this mean that you can eat lots of cheese and other calcium-rich dairy products and loose lots of weight? Not necessarily so. You still have to watch your caloric intake and get plenty of exercise. Researcher and Professor Rachel Novotny, Ph.D., R.D., in the department of human nutrition, food and animal sciences at the University of Hawaii at Manoa says the calcium/weight findings shouldn't be interpreted as an excuse to eat these rich dairy products in the hopes of stimulating weight loss. The bot-u tom line is still calorie consumption; however, when more of the calories come from calcium-rich foods, there is lower weight and lower body fat.

The winning formula then—as always cut the calories, exercise more, and now,

Feeling sorry for a child can take away practice and hurt their futures

Hi Dr. Singer,

I saw your column last week and thought there was something more you might address. I have these thoughts because we also have a neighbor who has a child like the one you wrote about who was getting away with more because of a disability, but this is much worse. The little girl next door to us is the rudest thing I have ever come across. Even to adults she doesn't know. She verbally jumps on her mother in a nasty way, way too often, while her mother is trying to speak to other people. The aggravating part is that this kid has been diagnosed with sensory integration and attention deficit and therefore, her parents do not put a stop to anything she does. They have also seen to it that her work in school has been limited and no one there is allowed to even remotely discipline her. You can imagine how that goes. It's as though they feel sorry for her and therefore, do not even stop her nasty mouth when it is aimed at them. She is getting more and more rude as she gets older and it is just aggravating to watch. I have kids too and I discipline them all the time. It is important to do that. Unfortunately, they see her getting away with everything and try to challenge me based on her "being allowed to be that way." I cannot even imagine telling someone else not to stop their bad behavior. I guess I cannot understand how any parent can let behavior like this go! Please help me understand this. G.R.

Hi G.R.,

I want to explain how this happens and also tell you a little bit about why it is so wrong for any parent to approach a "diagnosed" child that way. I too have had lots and lots of kids in my office who have been diagnosed with SI (sensory integration problems), BD (behavior disorder), LD (learning disability), ADHD (attention deficit hyperactivity disorder), etc. There are so many different ones today, you have to know your alphabet pretty well! I have also seen parents back down and back off from kids who have these symptoms and problems. I understand why they do it, which I will explain in a minute, but I do not agree with anyone doing it that way. I believe it is horrendously bad and dangerous for the child and parents when anyone backs away from discipline and/or work based on a diagnosis.

You have to understand that when a child is diagnosed with some condition, three things happen immediately. First, the child sees him or herself differently. Kids see themselves as damaged somehow when they get these labels. Because these labels are presented as lifelong and something inherent about the child, these kids do take to heart that this is a permanent and crippling state of affairs. The second thing that happens is that parents see their kids differently after one of those labels gets placed. Now, the parents see that child as fragile and breakable and needing to be protected and handled carefully. So, now parents start to back off of yelling, discipline and everything else that could be construed as being "mean." Also, what happens now is the lessening of any work difficulty. Parents and teachers both see to it that work load and difficulty level is decreased to make the stress less on the already "burdened" child. Even though it may be easy for you to get angry at parents and teachers for doing this, you have to understand that they feel they are doing it in the best interest of the child and because they care about the child. I feel it is my job to let them know gently that this is not in the best interest of any child. The third thing that happens is the saddest of all and is the sum total of the other two I mentioned. The child, who is now labeled and free of any real discipline and free of any work or frustration, now begins to believe that the rest of life will be equally as easy and the other people they meet will treat them with the same careful treatment that well-meaning parents and teachers have all along. This is when the fireworks really start to fly. I believe these kids get set up to be "crippled" all along, once that label has been placed. The really aggravating thing for me is that it does not have to be that way. These symptoms are easily eradicated in most cases. I had a mom in my office the other day who put it beautifully and if I could get every parent on this planet thinking like she does. I believe we would virtually see an end to these horrible labels and diagnoses. She said, "I know I am not popular when I use discipline with my child, but I don't care how he sees me. It is my job to train him right, not to be his friend or to be popular with him." She wanted every bit of behavior changing information I could train her in! Because of that viewpoint, that kid will make it just fine. And trust me, this mom has plenty she could feel sorry for him about. He has been labeled and held back in school, so this mom could have reasons to feel sorry for him and fall prey to that seductive pain and feeling sorry that other parents do fall prey to every day in our country.

PARENT'S PLACE

Don't get me wrong! I do believe in the symptoms of all of the disorders I mentioned above. Where I differ from other professionals and most of the books out there is that I do not believe in the labeling process and I also don't believe in backing down from work, discipline and reality responses toward these kids because of a weakness they have. Instead of backing off, I believe in helping to supportively push them through the tough stuff to help them learn to cope with it and get past it. I believe in building up those weaknesses through sheer will. And it does work. If you repetitively train the opposite of the symptom through practice, you have a whole different kid on the other side. I know this works because each time I see one of these kids who has been labeled with one of these supposedly "life-long, permanent, unfixable, character based" problems, I eradicate symptoms completely, just by practicing the opposite habits. Just remember, if something never gets practiced right, it never works right. These kids are never truly getting the chance to practice their weak skills right, because adults are rushing in to take away the practice, in the interest of making these kids more comfortable. These kids who are getting less work and less stress and less distraction because of their "disability" or "sensory issues" are never getting to practice the tough stuff, so they never get good at it. One other thing that is very important is to make the kids keep working right through their frustration. I know this is not always easy, so I train parents in how to keep their kids going even when they get upset and also how to control their kid's behavior during that frustration so these kids can ultimately learn how to deal with their own frustration and still be successful in spite of it. This is imperative to do. These kids who are allowed to stop every time they get frustrated learn to just walk away from hard stuff. This ends up looking a lot like a distractibility problem even when it might not be. These contrived, set up, situations in which frustration never comes are horribly bad for the child. Not only do they never challenge the child's brain, but they also give these kids a very false picture of what it is like to work. It won't stay frustration-less as life goes on and if they are not equipped to handle frustration effectively, someday they will crash and burn. You want to talk about bad feelings in parents. That is when the real pain truly starts and then it is too late to do anything about it. Watching an adult "child" who cannot handle anything because they never got the chance to take it on when they were in their parent's loving care. That is truly heartbreaking and I have seen it many times. When they are little or young you have plenty you can do about it. If they never practice, they never learn to change it and will always react the same unhealthy way.

If we give it up because it hurts or because it's hard or because we are acting out about it, we will never get it. We will ultimately become the weakness we have not practiced.

Dr. Singer is a Psychologist who regularly works in person with readers of this column improving kid's attention, behavior and learning skills fast. She has been an ADD Coach to many kids on meds and has also trained the skills of many other labeled kids who are not on medication to take them to attention, behavior and learning heights their parents never dreamed they were capable of. Antioch takes top 3 at NSC meet | Area golfers

The large Antioch cross country flag came off the bus early, and runners were ready to carry to a banner day at the North Suburban Conference boys cross country meet.

The first three runners into the shoot were all clad in red and black of Antioch so, from that standpoint, it was an excellent day to be a Sequoit. Especially if your name happens to be either Andy Napier, (champion in 15:21), Jim Beatty (second in 15:50) or Chip Lefflman (third in 16:08).

"I think that this is the first time that that has happened. To have two guys pushing each other all year long is great," said Antioch coach Dave Judson.

The 1-2-3 finish was not enough for the overall team title, which went to Stevenson by a 3-63 margin.

Judson said that there is much about the Stevenson-Antioch cross country rivalry. Stevenson won the dual meet by a mere three points.

Steve Worth was 28th and Joel Meyer,

29th for Antioch's next runners.

Jessie Conrad and Jim Taylor gave Libertyville two runners in the top 10, fifth and 10th.

Mark Schneider of Warren was 13th and Ben Witte of Wauconda was 19th for area top 20 finishes.

NSC final team scores were: Stevenson, 39, Antioch 63, Lake Forest 90, Libertyville 101. Warren 135, Zion-Benton 168, Mundelein 202, Vernon Hills 216, Wauconda 235, Grant 281, Round Lake 313 and North Chicago, 379.

make State their case

By JOHN PHELPS Lakeland Correspondent

In this case, quality overrides quantity as the Lakeland area only had three golfers qualify for the state finals.

As for the boy's finals, held at The Den at Fox Creek, Mundelein junior Tyler Wollberg perhaps made the biggest splash. Wollberg wound up shooting rounds of 76-79 to finish tied for 20th. But it was just getting to the final leg that was even more impressive.

"He's played very well and worked very hard on his game," said Mustang head coach Todd Parola. "It's a very exciting accomplishment for not only him, but for Mundelein High School."

Wollberg, after shooting 97 at regionals last year, finished second at regional two weeks ago with an even-par 71. From there, he earned the state berth by finishing in the top-10 with a 78 at sectionals.

Libertyville sophomore Nicole Schachner made quite a statement herself at the girls finals held at Stone Creek in downstate Carbondale.

Schachner wound up tied for fifth after carding rounds of 81-78.

"I hit the ball well the first day but I didn't putt or chip particularly well," said Schachner, who immediately went to work on her short game with her father after the opening round. "The second day, my putting was a lot better. I had five less putts (than in round 1) and just tried to play my game."

Senior Jenn Guido was the only other area qualifier for the girls state Finals. She became the first Corsair to reach the State finals in four years. Guido had a rocky first round 86 but rebounded nicely with a 79 on the second day, putting her in a tie for 17th and just four strokes away from earning a medal.

Area runners fare well at Adler Park

By STEVE PETERSON speterson@lakelandmedia.com

Area girls cross country runners will be back at the Adler Park course, with much more at stake.

The setting will be the Libertyville Regional Cross Country meet, with the top finishers moving on to sectional and others having their seasons end on Oct. 25.

Libertyville's Mia Supanich-Winter continues to own the North Suburban Conference girls race, as the senior won the meet for the third straight year.

She topped teammate Erica Mientus and Grant standout Pam Staton with a clocking of 18:15 in the warmer-thanusual October Saturday, Host Libertyville was second to Lake Forest for the team title, 57-41:

"The goal was to stay behind her. I stayed with her in the woods, but then, for some reason, started to pass her," Staton said of her battle for second.

The end result was Mientus with a 18:24 for second, ahead of Staton's 18:41. Staton beat a pack of two of the next three runners from Lake Forest.
